

Washington, D. C.
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR:
J. W. WALKER, CORRESPONDING EDITOR.
NO. 12 OF THE TWELFTH VOLUME BEGINNING JANUARY 1, 1858.

Anti-Slavery Era is an uncompromising advocate of Slavery and the Slave Power; a personal, civil, and religious liberty to race or creed; a free life to the people to control the property, or the direction of priests or all measures directly or indirectly proscription on account of birth and race; a free life to the people, and all reforms calculated to secure consideration, recompense, and right, and to Trade, its Natural Free of which every man has a right to Slavery, and the issues involving the great Political Question of the ground, that Slavery, from the Liberty, is perpetrating to Freedom and Free Labor extremely aggressive; that its work ness; and it therefore has been continue to support, the Rep-ing itself, however, perfectly in-liberty to approve or condemn accord or conflict with the weekly a summary of General telligence, keeps a rea large portion of the most im-delivered in that body. provided for, and its Literary Musoriginal, being supplied by man-of the country, makes it em-have been stood by the Era than paper can host warmer or more the claims and merits of the Era, in the face of imminent perils Freedom of the Press in this District, for the purpose of Chair at the seat of the ment, representing the sentiment of the people, and the only journal through which their representatives in Congress could find the name Cause elsewhere, have to estimate to rely upon, and the prothe assistance of the Federal Govern-is uniformly proscribed by the denied, while, so far from having it is constantly subjected to the strong local interests; so that it is due in upon those enlightened freedom, all over the country, where the necessity of maintaining such an outpost of Freedom.

[illegible][illegible]

tioned, from time to time, as occasions for the recurrences of the same errors. Antecedents of General Jackson, and of the late President, were not other parties, will I believe, be interesting to the Union as it stands.

It is a fact, that the Congress of 1820, to say, that the Globe would never be a contribution to history, would be to say that it destroyed the public men of its own era, and that it introduced into the nation no new principles, no new notions to any party. But in regard to the Globe, I have no such doubts. I believe the Globe an honest nemesis; and, with this belief, I believe the independence of all parties to be secured. I have no doubt that the Globe, in Congress, revised by the House, and in the Reports of the House, of the United States, has passed during the session, and will be passed, in the course of the session, pages. The whole will make it, I believe, a valuable addition to the nation's papers, royal quarto size, each number containing 100 pages.

The years have ranged between those upon which the Globe is termed a "manly" paper, a "republican," or "a paper from manly men," since the year 1838. The number of years is 36, and the average number of that number of words for six dollars have paid less than six and one half dollars for the furnished text, while the other two have paid more. The reporters $9.50 for every 2,500 words they wrote. Has any other bookkeeper, or reporter I have met, paid more than that rate? I have not. I have not been asked to give to any person more than that rate. I have not been asked to contribute a complete set of the debates to any person. I have not been asked for $5 a volume. I have not been asked to send any of my papers to any by mail free of postage. I have not been asked to send any of my papers, without doing an unusually large business, to any person. I have not been asked to answer any of the trivial or complex questions must be discussed, as the currency, Kansas, revenue, and so on. I have not been asked to do anything which fall debates can be obtained.

TERMS.

Daily Globe one year	$10.00
Daily Globe six months	5.00
Daily Globe during the session	5.00
Advertisements	as per prices
Carriage and horse hire	61 present in the section of the country where it will be received at par. The whole subscription may be remitted in postage stamps.

to contribute the money accompanying the globe; but I will send the Daily Globe to all who will publish the prospectus sent me. Mouldy or aged documents will do as well as new ones. The publishing should send their papers come with a pen, to direct insertion.
JOHN C. RIVES.
October 9, 1857.

CLOTHING HOUSE
Youths, and Little Children's MADE CLOTHING,
WHOLESALE GOODS, &c.,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
The assortment is supplied with an extensive assortment, DOESKINS, CASIMERE, with every facility for the faithful and on all orders for general clothing.
Naval Officers' Dresses, Military and Army uniforms furnished at short notice, and at great prices perfect satisfaction.
HIMMONS, PIPER, & CO.,

